Hello everyone!

I hope you're all doing well and have been able to slot back into work and school routines after the Christmas break!

My work for this current tour in the Philippines is almost done! February and March are fast approaching and thousands are expected to respond! We're all so excited about this! God has been moulding these communities over the last 8 months and we've seen some amazing breakthroughs. The tour will be another opportunity for God to impact lives.

After the Tour I will be in the same region for another two months of vital discipleship. I will be overseeing small groups and church follow up. Starting around June/July I will be travelling to England to meet supporters (that's most of you lovely people) and give some talks.

I will also be going to Nigeria to be best man at Bamshak's wedding. Finally I hope to go to Germany to help my team mate raise finances while she is on a break from ministry. That's the good news; unfortunately here is the bad... I will be spending around £2,000 on travel! (Only £40 return to Germany though, praise God for Ryan Air!). Could I encourage you to consider supporting me financially this year, either through direct debit or a one off gift? My finances will be stretched tight and I would appreciate your prayerful consideration over this.

I'm excited for what experiences I'll be having this coming year and how God will be revealing himself more and more. After these few months of travel I'll be back in the Philippines for the next tour in Cebu city. When I move to Cebu, my living expenses will increase and so this is another reason for my request for finance. I anticipate being in Cebu for a minimum of Three years and then who knows... Japan, Africa – I'll wait to see what God has planned!

I'm so looking forward to talking in person with as many of you as possible when I'm back in the UK.

Thank you (Salamat)

God bless

Simeon
